Sarla Exports, in the span of over two and a half decades has become a one-stop quality source for all major Indian dimensional stones, be it Marbles or Stones. While the company owns and controls some major deposits and processing facilities, it has strong strategic alliances with few external companies, thus being able to offer the complete range of building dimensional stones from India.

Regular participation in Global Stone events helps Sarla Exports to incorporate newest technologies, improvements and innovations in production techniques. The stored database of repeated interaction with globally spread clientele, that includes Architects, Project Promoters, Stone Whole Sellers and Retailers, brings deep awareness of specific liking and preferences of different markets.
